Following are a few of our foremost activities foreseen during the project:

- Attracting young people who are interested in science to various scientific disciplines in an effort to encourage gifted and talented people in choosing science for their future careers.
- Creating a collaborative environment through which scientific knowledge and experience will be shared and exchanged on permanent bases.
- Working closely with local civic organizations and educational institutions in an effort to offer scientific knowledge and experience to local people in accordance with their needs and demands.
- Promoting an entrepreneurial spirit whereby local actors and authorities will make serious investments in scientific areas, which will raise public awareness of science.
