
4th International conference "Safety and Security Systems in Europe", 4-5 June 2009, Potsdam/Germany

01 dicembre 2017

4th International conference "Safety and Security Systems in Europe", 4-5 June 2009, Potsdam/Germany

APRE segnala un importante Conferenza Internazionale nell'ambito della Safety and Security System che si terrà a Potsdam/Germania il prossimo 4-5 Giugno 2009.

Organised by VDI/VDE-IT and the European Enterprise Network (EEN)

Conference Technical Topics and Economic and Social Aspects

- Sensors of all relevant types (CBRNE), e.g. gas sensors, IR cameras, THz technology, remote sensors
- Hardware and software for signal and image processing, pattern recognition, abnormal behaviour detection, data reduction
- Equipment for first responders, e.g. smart textiles, health surveillance, reconnaissance and orientation in unknown objects
- System concepts for surveillance of critical objects or areas
- Platform concepts to combine different technological solutions
- Independent communication concepts and middleware
- Needs of end-users faced with new solutions and regulations
- Use and importance of standards and a European security label for a sustainable business in security
- Requirements and solutions for the adaption of work processes and training of employees using new technological solutions
- New technical solutions changing old security markets

- New business concepts
- Regulations and legislation for the world wide use of relevant technologies

Call for Papers:

3000 characters (max) should arrive via website (www.safety-and-security.eu <<http://www.safety-and-security.eu/>>) not later than 29th February 2009

Further information:

Dr. Mathias Künzel

s3@safety-and-security.eu