EMUNI: Call for doctoral research seminars

Dear co-founders of EMUNI University,

It is our pleasure to inform you that EMUNI is launching a Call for doctoral students to apply for 2- week EMUNI Doctoral Research Seminars 2009 to be held in Slovenia, Portoroz. During the seminar students will have the opportunity to elaborate their doctoral thesis and write research papers. Furthermore, they will be able to develop an interdisciplinary approach in an intercultural environment.

In academic year 2008/09 the following two doctoral research seminars will be organised:

De-Pollution of Mediterranean Basin (delivered from May 4 to 16, 2009)

University Systems (delivered from May 18 to 30, 2009)

The participation in the seminar is free of charge. EMUNI offers scholarships for accommodation (at EMUNI) and for meals.

Application forms for seminar and for scholarship are available through <http://www.emuni.si/en/strani/181/Doctoral-Research-Seminars.html>

Enclosed you will find the leaflet about doctoral research seminar. We would be most grateful to you if you distribute it within your institution, especially among students who are currently working on doctoral thesis related to topics above.
