EMUNI University: Call for doctoral research seminars

Dear Co-founders of EMUNI University,

We kindly inform you that we extended the application deadline for student to apply for Doctoral Research Seminar. The new deadline is April 20, 2009.

Seminars offer great opportunity for students to improve/enrich their doctoral thesis as well as to contribute to intercultural and international experience. The participation in the seminar is free of charge. EMUNI offers scholarships for accommodation (at EMUNI) and for meals.

In academic year 2008/09 the following two doctoral research seminars will be organised:

- De-Pollution of Mediterranean Basin (delivered from May 4 to 16, 2009)
- University Systems (delivered from May 18 to 30, 2009)

Application forms for seminar and for scholarship are available through <http://www.emuni.si/en/strani/181/Doctoral-Research-Seminars.html>

Enclosed you will find the leaflet regarding doctoral research seminar and the poster.

First of all we would like to thank you for all the promotion that you did. Since we have still free places in the seminars we would be most grateful to you if you distribute attached documents among students who are currently working on doctoral thesis related to topics above.

Sincerely Yours,
Anica NOVAK, Projects - Education
